Caring for our Planet

WE ENDEAVOUR TO BE RESPONSIBLE tour operator and respect nature and the environment we work in. Tourism is a key element in the global economy, but it also has its downside. Environmental protection is nothing new to us, which has been committing itself to environmental activities since 2000. Since then, we have regularly taken part in cleaning projects on various mountain paths that have been affected by intensive tourism.

We operate our own environmental cleaning projects to keep the environment neat, clean and green. We also organise ecology training and attract volunteers to participate in our environmental projects. Moreover, we aim to bring awareness to our employees on the necessity to care for nature and the environment.

We encourage activities such as reducing the use of paper, plastic and electric energy in office activities, re-use and recycling.

Our Visual Personality

We had to make bigger our image and goodwill more coherent and to communicate through it our whole set of values. We re-evaluated most of the things: our new name, new logo, office design, the exterior design of transportation, the brochures, billboards and launch a campaign to promote new company and image of the company. It was also now that we assumed the new slogan: "We just don't say the best, We do the best".

National Tourism Award winner - No venture can be successful without a vision and determination to excel. Behind our steady growth is the focused and well-planned business strategy of its dynamic leader. Our directors with their exceptional vision, foresight & strategic planning have ensured the commendations of all in the travel related field.

Expertise In time, the company has been specialised in many destinations, enabling us to offer a greater range of choice, more flexibility and more advantages than anyone else. Our staff has personally experienced each destination we promote, so we are ready to answer any questions, offering competent advice and recommendations and providing our customers with the performance they require.

Take pleasure in a comfortable, smooth and unique journey with Adventure Sense around the world.
